

|            |                                                       |
|------------|-------------------------------------------------------|
| S_No_      | 181                                                   |
| Vernacular | अमलतास (Golden Shower)                                |
| Scientific | Cassia fistula                                        |
| Family     | Fabaceae                                              |
| Remarks_   | सुनहरे लटकते पीले फूल (Golden hanging yellow flowers) |
| Latitude   | 23.3554                                               |
| Longitude  | 85.2434                                               |
| Plant_Orig | Native                                                |

Amaltas

Cassia fistula* Linn.

F-Fabaceae

Distributed throughout deciduous forest of India. A moderate sized handsome tree with bright yellow flowers looks like chandelier. Widely grown as ornamental and medicine purposes. Mostly planted in garden and road side due to attracted yellow colour flower. Its provide good shade during the summer season. This plants has various pharmacological compounds. Flowers also edible by tribal peoples.