

S_No_	40
Vernacular	महुआ (Mahua)
Scientific	Madhuca longifolia
Family	Sapotaceae
Remarks_	फूलों से शराब बीजों से तेल प्राप्त होता है (Liquor from flowers oil from seeds)
Latitude	23.3577
Longitude	85.2446
Plant_Orig	Native

Mahua	Madhuca longifolia (J. Konig) J. F. Macbr.	F-Sapotaceae
Distributed in India and Sri Lanka. It grows through the greater part of India except, temperate, arid and Southern part of the India Peninsula. Commonly found in deciduous forest large handsome tree with creamy flowers, flowers are used for making alcoholic drink. Seeds are called ‘Tori’ used for making Mahua butter. One of the major livelihood supporting species of Jharkhand. Flowers are also used for making pickles and sweet dishes. Seeds are recalcitrant in nature.		